Shorter Store Hours Are To Save Electric Power

BUSINESS MEN PLAN TO HELP FARMERS ON HALF HOLIDAYS

Main St. clothing, dry-goods and shoe stores will be closed Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday nights at 6 o'clock, and will remain open on Thursday evenings until 8 o'clock and on Saturday evenings until the usual time.

"This action is based on the understanding that similar steps are being taken by other towns and cities throughout Ontario and Canada, designed to save vitally needed power required by industries engaged in the production of war materials and weapons," states an agreement signed this week by the dry goods merchants.

This supplements an agreement signed by men's clothing and shoe merchants to co-operate with each other and merchants in other lines of business in this war-time scheme to save labor and electricity.

The proposal was originally made by Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales as a contribution to the war effort.

VISITING MISSIONARIES TELL OF PERILOUS VOYAGE
ACROSS ATLANTIC

An interesting meeting was held by the Senior Christian Endeavor society of the Christian church on Tuesday evening when the group were privileged to hear Rev. and Mrs. D. C. Percy, who are home on a year's furlough after spending four years as missionaries in Nigeria.

Mr. Percy gave an account of their trip—from the west coast of Africa to the U.S.A. During the coast-wise part of the trip, when they were accompanied by a convoy, Mr. Percy said a great deal of excitement was caused when the convoy ship in front of them suddenly started to drop depth bombs. On board with them were a group of sailors who had been picked up after their ship had been torpedoed.

"There is nothing they dread more than being torpedoed," Mr. Percy told his audience. "It is one thing facing an enemy on land, but when you have to fight one you can't see it is frightening."

"It is like the sea of life," said Mr. Percy. "The enemy Satan always strikes when he is least expected and is always lurking under the surface."

The trip across the Atlantic was made in a small ship without a convoy and very few arms.

"We are confident that it was nothing but the hand of God that brought us safely across those dangerous areas," said Mr. Percy. He told of how one evening, just at twilight, which he said was the most dangerous time, they watched six or seven ships that had been torpedoed sink.

On another occasion they saw a ship torpedoed six miles behind them. Mrs. Percy gave some interesting highlights on how the young people in Nigeria, after coming to the mission compound and being told the gospel story, would work for days just to earn their own Bibles, and undergo all sorts of ridicule and punishment from their parents and friends.

"The girls will carry large jugs of water for maybe a quarter of a mile for only a fifth of a cent for every jug of water they bring," Mrs. Percy said. "Six cents a day is considered good wages by the natives. They read their Bible every chance they get, and I sometimes think we here in Canada, who have been brought up in a Christian land and in Christian homes, do not half appreciate our Bibles."

Mr. and Mrs. Percy gave an illustrated lecture on their work in Nigeria at the Christian-Congregational conference meeting in Stouffville on Wednesday evening.

Great British Aviator Has Newmarket Cousins

Lieut. "Paddy" Finucane, the R.A.F. ace who has shot down well over 50 enemy planes, holds the D.S.O. and the D.F.C. with double bar and is a symbol of greatness in this war, is related to an old Newmarket family, it is learned from Mrs. Helena Haskett Hance, Macedon Centre, New York.

Mrs. Hance's grandmother Haskett, (who was also the great-grandmother of T. F. Doyle of Newmarket) was born "Mary Finucane" near Limerick, in Ireland. Dublin-born Lieut. Brendan ("Paddy") Finucane, Mrs. Hance's nephew, belongs to the same Finucane "clan" as the Newmarket branch of the family.

Flying with an Australian squadron of the R.A.F., "Paddy" Finucane hopes to settle in Australia after the war.

NEWMARKET FOLK ORGANIZE TO GIVE ASSISTANCE TO OCEAN'S HEROES

An appeal on behalf of the heroic merchant sailors who are sailing the high seas for the United Nations was made by J. Davidson of the Navy League of Canada in the council chambers on Friday evening.

During the evening, on motion of Robert Martin and Morden Carter, a Newmarket branch of the Navy League was organized. Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales presided. "Many Dutch and Norwegian sailors cannot visit their own homes and the only homes they know are the hostels directed by the Navy League in our eastern Canadian ports," said Mr. Davidson. FIVE-YEAR-OLD SENT TO CITY HOSPITAL, EXPECT TO SAVE HAND

Falling in front of the town mower, when he darted in front of the mower to climb on the truck which was towing it, five-year-old Ronald Simmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Simmons, Timothy St., had his right wrist almost severed, at the Stuart Scott ball field on Monday afternoon.

Ronald is now at the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto, and the latest report received is that his hand will probably be saved, although he may not have the full use of it.

Jack Stickland was driving the truck and Datus Crowder was riding the mower. Several youngsters, including an older brother of Ronald's, were sitting in the truck enjoying the ride. Ronald appeared suddenly and rushed in to pull himself up on the truck. He took hold of the tongue of the mower, which had been shortened to four feet, and fell over. He rolled toward the mower bar.

NORTH GWILLIMBURY SLOT MACHINE HAS TO GO, IS COUNCIL EDICT

OTHERS OPPOSED

North Gwillimbury township council met at Belhaven on Monday, June 1. Just after proceedings were under way the council was interviewed by some people who conduct summer business places on the lake shore. These parties referred to a campaign against slot-machines which was going on in the community. They maintained that the slot-machines provided a form of amusement which their customers, the summer people, wanted and would be disappointed if they could not have. The operation of the machines, while technically illegal, was common to all parts of the province and the provincial authorities legalized much worse forms of gambling at race tracks.

With reference to their business, the revenue from the machines helped pay expenses in the very short season the business had to make earnings. They argued that they were running respectable places of business catering to the summer people, who were an asset to the whole community. The rents for their premises were high and they believed they should have due consideration. While not definitely stated, this was taken to imply that they hoped the council would "lay off" in the matter of interfering with slot-machines.

A little later opposing views were presented by a large delegation of representative citizens of the township. Their views were presented in a brief read by Francis Morton.

Therein appreciation was expressed for the efficient way in which a recent violation of the local option law had been dealt with and it was hoped that other cases of illegal sale, if existing, would be dealt with in the same manner. Slot-machines were condemned out of hand and no exceptions should be made. Sunday (Page 2, Col. 7)

A well-known figure in Newmarket, where for the past 30 years he had taken an active part in community affairs, Thos. Henry Sennett died at York County hospital yesterday after an illness of about two weeks, as the result of a heart condition. Mr. Sennett would have been 87 years old on June 17.

Hope Springs Eternal

Those United States are a strange mixture. President Franklin D. Roosevelt names to a federal judgeship a doctee of the notorious Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City so that a Democratic candidate for re-election to the senate in the November elections will have Hague's support and so that the administration (every senate vote counts) will be in a position to carry on with its war and post-war plans to make the world safe for democracy and democracy safe for the world.

The people of the United States are busy planning the "new order" for the world. The president and vice-president, the state department, and many private groups in the United States are really studying the problem of building a new sort of world, possibly without tariffs, and certainly without wars. It has seemed unfortunate to us that our British countries have discouraged study of the post-war world. Mr. Churchill has contended that the present is no time to discuss the future, that the only job now is to win the war.

While we do not think that Mr. King has given any more positive leadership in this matter of future international relationships, we believe that what he has said with regard to domestic affairs—that reforms that are not well under way during the war will not have much chance after the war—is true with regard to world affairs.

As we remarked in the beginning, it is from politician Franklin D. Roosevelt, making a judicial appointment that would send a British or Canadian prime minister into retirement for the rest of his life, that the world is getting its most hopeful leadership. The U.S. administration is using its lease-lend agreements, and tremendous munitions production capacity, to secure from its old-world allies, Britain, Russia, China, adherence to a new deal and a new order that, though it may tolerate the occasional Jersey City dictator-mayor, will be a long step in front of Versailles.

And the day of the new start may not be so far away. It is not for the average citizen to predict too confidently the end of the war, but the almost unanimous opinion of military commentators seems to be that Germany, under the increasing pressure of unprecedented bombing raids, might crumble at any time. Certainly it is permissible to wonder how the German people can be so foolish as to keep on fighting while city after city is destroyed.

Express-Herald History

Among errors in last week's attempt at an amalgamated newspaper the year 1885 was given instead of 1895 for the beginning of the Express-Herald. Unfortunately, the earliest copies of the Express-Herald, like the earliest copies of the Newmarket Era, are missing. Three unbound copies of the Express-Herald do tell something of that newspaper's history. The first, dated Feb. 11, 1898, is called "The Newmarket Advertiser and Courier." This is Vol. III, No. 23. It is apparently the first issue under W. B. Hill as proprietor. Mr. Hill announces, although part of the text is missing, that he will change the name of the paper.

The next issue, dated Feb. 18, 1898, appears under the name of "The Newmarket Express and Weekly Advertiser." Another early copy is dated Aug. 1, 1902, and the name is "The Express-Herald of Newmarket and Sutton." J. D. McKay is editor and proprietor.

Anyone who can contribute to a knowledge of the early history of the Express-Herald is requested to complete the above story, so that it may be published and put on the record.

Town and Farm Co-operate

District farmers will need all the help that they can get this year with their work. They need help so that they may harvest the best possible crops, to provide vitally needed food for Canada and her allies. It is even possible that Canada will be called upon to provide great quantities of food for part at least of the continent of Europe this winter.

Mr. W. M. Cockburn, the York county agricultural representative, has appealed to Newmarket people to give whatever help they can to farmers of the district. Half-holidays can be enjoyed and patriotically spent on a nearby farm.

Some of the Main St. business people, with a little extra spare time as a result of the six o'clock closing to be observed by dry goods, clothing and shoe merchants, are planning to give at least some of their Wednesday half-holidays to hard-pressed farms. Help given in this way will not only "total up" but it will be a real encouragement to farmers, who sometimes (not entirely without reason) think that they are the chief war victims on the home front.

WHAT OTHERS THINK

Tough, Fighting Words

(By Walter Weir in the Canadian Woodworker, May, 1942. Suggested for publication by A. G. Peppiatt, Newmarket.)

Don't get me wrong—I'm just an ordinary guy. I'm not trying to pose as an expert on the moulding of public opinion. I'm not talking big about what I'd do if it was my job to whip up the country on the war effort.

I'm talking as an average citizen. I'm saying, not what I'd like to tell them, but what I'd like to be told. Soon.

Because I'm concerned, and I've been concerned, about my reaction to all that's been happening. Sure, I'm buying bonds. I'm paying taxes. I'm doing with less sugar.

But deep down inside, down where it really matters, something hasn't taken place yet that I feel ought to take place. I'm all a welter of confusion there. It keeps me scratching my head and mopping my brow when I know I ought to be clenching my fists.

You understand? It's like this: I want to be told—not to buy Defence Stamps or Defence Bonds. I want to be told to buy Victory Stamps or War Bonds.

I want to be told—not about the construction of houses in Defence Areas. I want to be told about the construction of houses in War Production Areas.

I want to be told—not to help keep our world and our way of life from being lost. I want to be told to help build a new world and a better way of life.

I want a positive program instead of a passive one. I want something to fight for—I'm sick and tired of having only something to fight against. I'm hungry for something to get pepped up about—I'm repelled from having only something to fear. I want something to do—not just to wait for.

It hasn't been so long since the last war that I forget what happened then. I remember the parades and the speeches and the ringing slogans. Then we fought to make the world safe for democracy.

We set out to avenge Belgium—not just to remember it. We made a vow that we'd reach Berlin or bust. We toyed with plans to hang the Kaiser. We warned the Hun to "keep your head down, Fritzle-boy!" We girded ourselves for a crusade—we didn't close the doors for a siege.

We hated the Kaiser—we didn't laugh at him. We likened his upturned handlebars to the devil's horns—not to anything so harmless and pathetic as the famous hirsute prop. Charlie Chaplin plasters on his upper lip. We saw nothing to be amused about in his vain and pompous posturings—as we do today in Mussolini's puffy strutting. We didn't pin our hopes on the defective eyesight of our enemy.

We planted war gardens. We poured our money into war chests. We had gasless Sundays and yelled "Slacker!" at anyone who dared to venture out in his Winton or Hupmobile or Stearns-Knight. We churned one pound of butter into two pounds and did it with as much will as if we were turning out ammunition.

We took the offensive psychologically long before we took it physically. And if we hadn't taken it psychologically, we'd never have developed the drive to take it physically. And don't tell me we can't do the same now.

I want to sing that today we control our own destiny, tomorrow the destiny of the whole world. I want to sail against Germany, against Italy, against Japan. If they can sail against us and our allies, why can't we sail against them? I want to construct a greater America co-prosperity sphere. I want to correct the mistakes of the Versailles treaty insofar as they allowed all this to happen. I want to win lebensraum for the democratic way of life.

I'm fed up with singing plaintive songs—I want to sing battle songs. Don't tell me there'll be bluebirds over the white cliffs of Dover. To hell with bluebirds. Tell me there'll be vultures and a deadly silence over Berchtesgaden.

I'm bored with keeping a stiff upper lip—I want to develop a stiff uppercut. I'm tired of being made to feel sad. I want the experience—the purging, marshalling, driving experience—of being made to feel mad. Fighting mad!

You get me?

ANYTHING CAN HAPPEN

By Isabel Inglis Colville

Some one once said that "resolutions were made, only to be broken," and I often wonder if in some other incarnation that person knew me, for there are two resolutions that I make, with-out fail, every year—there are, also, the same resolutions which I break, also without fail, every year.

In the fall I look about at my borders and rock garden and think—I have a photographic mind—why should I make a chart of where certain plants are, I shall be able to state here, in the early spring and know exactly where old things will come up and where space is left for planting. Then, dismayed by the fact that this philosophy led to destruction and havoc last year—and many last years—I shut my ears and closed my conscience to the little inner voice which urges "mark them, remember last year!" and walked away, proudly trusting to a memory which deserved no such trust. Then, lo, the winter was passed and spring was here, and I, armed with rake and hoe, fared forth to clear the ground for this year's planting.

When my raking was done, I stood back and looked now for my mental photograph of last year's small fry. You have all seen photographs which the years have dimmed, where even familiar faces have faded to a sort of indeterminate blur—well, there you have my predicament in a nutshell. Well, I couldn't stand there till the flowers came up—or didn't—so I started to dig in a likely looking spot.

For a few minutes all went well, then up came a number of small, peevish, and most pathetic bulbs! "My Umbellatum," I shrieked to myself. Giving me a look which I took to indicate he had troubles of his own he returned to picking burrs from his tail, and I, muttering anathemas on my wonderful memory, carefully repotted my bulbs, putting them in a bag and begging pardon for intruding on their sleep.

I knocked the pot of tulips coming up to breathe the spring air, and dug up one or two things so carefully planted in the fall. "THIS," said I, dully, "is the last time such a thing will happen." Going to town a few days afterwards, I invested largely in seeds and proceeded to sow some the following evening.

Now perhaps you remember—I'll jog your memory, in case—that we have had rain, and rain, and more rain, so my next planting was delayed. By this time I had had lots of time to forget where I sowed the first lot, and I shall look forward to a pleasing mixture of plants—unless they're washed out or get disgusted with their neighbors and just don't come up.

Friend husband and Mother are not always sympathetic—deeming it only right that I should either cultivate a memory or leave tokens of occupancy behind me.

However, I guess I'm too old to change, and, anyway, I have one ace up my sleeve. Last evening as the head of the house and I surveyed our borders, I showed him a clump of scarlet lilies which were being smothered by a crimson peony.

"Have a heart," said I, "and dig me out that bunch of lilies and let me put them in your border, in that nice big space—they'll look lovely between your delphinium."

"It's a risk," said he, "taking them up this late, they'll bake in the hot sun."

"It's no worse than being smothered by a bush," said I, "and maybe they'll be so glad to breathe freely that they won't droop."

"On your head be it," he told me, and presently the lilies were free of their prison and standing erect in the sweet evening air.

"There," I cried triumphantly, "don't they look nice?"

"Fine," he conceded, "but wait till the sun strikes them."

Well, I will say they're a bit droopy today but that's not the point. Suddenly, in the midst of a radio program, my better half said, "I just remembered I'd sowed that space with poppy seed!"

Enough said but here I say again, I shall mark EVERYTHING this fall and next spring!

dancing in public places should be suppressed. Attention was drawn to a statute which, if enforced, made it illegal for children under 16 years of age to be allowed in public places after 9 p.m. They should be at home. They requested that the police be instructed to enforce the law in respect to these matters.

Reeve Ross McMillan led the council in a frank discussion of the whole matter with the delegation. He assured them that the council welcomed a show of public opinion in such matters and said that the public must assist and back up the council if they expected improvement. The reeve proposed a letter be had received recently. It contained a newspaper clipping reporting seizure of some slot-machines in a Toronto suburb. Attached to the clipping was an anonymous typewritten note asking when he was going to take similar action or was he "like the police, getting a rake-off?"

He stated he did not think it was necessary to defend himself or the police officers against the charge, especially as the writer had lacked the courage to sign it. The delegation lost no time in branding the letter as a contemptible piece of business.

The council assured the delegation that the slot-machines and Sunday dancing would have to go. There was considerable discussion over the matter of making the children stay home after 9 p.m.

The reeve and council were of the opinion that this was a matter for responsibility of the council and police. There might, of course, parental control rather than be exceptions and whose delinquency was evident the police might properly take action. DOCTOR SELLS FARM

Sale of the ten-acre farm property of Dr. J. C. R. Edwards at the corner of Gorham St. and the third concession of Whitchurch to Harry C. Tovell of Toronto, who is now in possession, is announced by Duffy Realty, Weston.

If you need something, first try to buy a used one.

This has been a long session. It commenced on the 22nd of January. It may take July to see its finish. The two billion war appropriation bill has taken almost six weeks in discussion. "Too much time," some will say. Perhaps, but two billion dollars is a lot of money and detailed information as to where and how it is to be spent creates a good deal of public interest, and consequently the various ministers have a correspondingly large number of enquiries from not only members of opposition groups but from the government benches as well. Personally, I think the debate could have been contracted considerably, but then, if the various angles of public thought are to be aired, it is preferable that it be done in the open on the floor of the house where every side can be heard. In Germany, they don't do things that way.

Hon. "Joe" Thorson, national war services minister, ran into heavy seas during part of his voyage through the war appropriation debate. His defence of the voluntary system of raising men for overseas service didn't suit some of the members, nor did his statement about the strength of the alleged isolationist element in Canada prior to the war. His department has charge of the calling up of men for service in Canada, and he found some difficulty in satisfying some of his questioners on various angles of this live topic. If the minister had a more highly developed sense of humor, like "Chubby" Power, or "lit into" his questioners occasionally, like "Jimmy" Gardiner, his road in committee would be doubtless a little less difficult. Some allowance should be made for Mr. Thorson, however, for he has been a cabinet minister only ten months, and has a heavy department to look after. He appeared tired during the debate, but in spite of the spirited attacks remained even-tempered throughout.

In the two billion dollar bill agriculture has a share. This year the Hon. James Gardiner has been given eleven millions to spend on wartime agricultural requirements. Members from rural areas entered the discussion early and stayed late. I think nearly all of us who represent agricultural constituencies had something to say. At times the debate waxed warm. Mr. Gardiner is the smallest cabinet minister in the government, but sad is the man who measures his verbal "upper cuts" by his physical stature. In the midst of a fiery speech following some others who attacked him, Hon. R. B. Hanson said to him, "Why make a political speech at this time?" Gardiner flashed back, "After listening to the three political speeches that have just been made, I think I am entitled to make at least one."

The dean of Aberdeen-Angus breeders in the west is seriously ill, from reports reaching members of the commons. Harry Leader, M.P. for Portage la Prairie, has sat in the house off Arthur Meighen in 1921. Angus cattle have always been a matter of greater pride to him than his political triumphs. Harry came into parliament when Hon. T. A. Crerar led the Progressive party after the last war, and although he has sat on the Liberal benches and usually has supported them, he very frequently has displayed his independence and left them on crucial issues. Liked for his deep sincerity and friendliness, this popular member has the best wishes of everyone for an early and complete recovery.

Every session a flurry occurs when the commons is asked to pass a block of divorce bills. All the provinces except Quebec and Prince Edward Island have their own divorce courts. People from these provinces who want to have their marriages dissolved must come to parliament to legally effect it. Each case requires a separate act. The senate divorce committee hears the evidence in each instance and eventually the bills reach the house of commons. On one day this session, 49 such bills were given second reading by the house. Messrs. Pouliot and Caldwell have been in the past the leading "protesters" against the system. Mild protests have been made already this year, but likely more will be heard on this score as the session moves toward its close.

In the parliament elected in 1930, a good many members of Irish extraction were elected, but no O'Neils or O'Briens. When the smoke of battle cleared in 1935, Tom O'Neill, C.P.R. engineer from Kamloops, was declared elected as a Liberal member in that part of the coast province. He was re-elected in 1940 after a hard fight with Hon. Harry Stevens, former leader of the Reconstruction party. In the 1940 election, the O'Briens evidently felt that their time had come for a representative to Ottawa. J. Leonard O'Brien, a young and good-looking Conservative bachelor, was Leonard's first venture into the federal arena, although he was for a time speaker of the provincial legislature in New Brunswick.

Canada is co-operating in many ways towards the hastening of the completion of the new Alaska highway. The United States, of course, is building the road and paying the cost, as it is primarily for the defence of Alaska. Our customs laws have been set aside, relative to the entry of goods connected with the enterprise. Our immigration laws have also been suspended to allow U.S. labor to flow in freely to work on the road. The rates of pay for this new labor have come into collision with the Canadian war labor board's freezing order, and formed the topic for quite a discussion the other day between Hon. George Black, M.P. for the Yukon, and the minister of labor. The higher wages paid by the Americans cannot apparently be met by the Canadian contractors engaged on the work because of the government regulations, and Mr. Black warned the minister that the workers are leaving their Canadian employers to work for the Americans. It is a

KING TOWNSHIP TREASURES FROM OLD KING HOMESTEAD SOLD

The highlands of New Scotland were well peopled on Saturday, when lovers of antiques fanned their way to Kelley's Lake to the pioneer Kelley homestead of King township where furniture and household effects were sold by auction by Cameron E. Walkington.

The sale of countless articles lasted nearly four hours. As the antiques of the Kelley family who have lived in King since 1832 were brought forward, the life of early Canadian homes was recalled. Noticeable were the number of neighbors who purchased many things as keepsakes, remembering the fine qualities of all the Kelley family. Buyers came from points in York county including Toronto. Prices were good throughout, but went to interesting highs when it came to the rare pieces of glassware, china, homespun and pictures. A three-piece glass dresser set of fine Venetian sold for $18, a small bronze pitcher for $5.75. Two homespun spreads, beautifully colored, sold for $15 and $24. An old clock with weights went for $4 and two others sold locally. A violin made by Robert Kelley, the family musician and inventor, brought $4, while a later model brought $8.

The large wooden box which the Kelleys brought to Canada, containing their clothing, bedding and other belongings, went for $150. Moss rose and willow china, stone jugs, quaint bedsteads, pencil sketches by Kate Mitchell, drawn in 1891, a muzzle-loading gun, a 100-year-old churn, Mary Mitchell's box of classical music, the beautiful boudoir piano with its brass candleholders, have all passed into new possession.

To many people, the death of Mrs. Rosalind Goforth, wife of the late Dr. Jonathan Goforth, both missionaries to China, comes as a distinct loss.

Union Masonic Lodge No. 118, Schomberg, visited Schomberg United church on Sunday morning when Rev. J. McEwan delivered a fitting sermon to 25 persons, headed by W. M. John Hart. Miss Hilda Patton, president of the Y.P.U. presbytery, Toronto Centre North, conducted a "camp night" demonstration before King United Y.P.U. last week. Cedar boughs, a camp-fire and a small lake and boats were among the illustrated outdoor environment. Six young ladies enacted a typical scene at camp.

The annual deanery meeting for this diocese will be held on June 11, at St. John's Anglican church, Oak Ridge. Under the convener of Mrs. Wells McDonald, Mrs. J. Galloway and Miss Jessie Monkman, a committee of the King Women's Institute branch packed 15 overseas boxes. The next date will be Aug. 6 and the place, Mrs. Armstrong's.

Mrs. R. F. Harper of King received word last week of the sudden death of her brother, Frank Johnstone, of Detroit, Mich. She attended the funeral, held on Saturday, in Detroit.

The burial of Thomas Burling of Elmville took place in King cemetery on June 6, in the Harrison plot. Mrs. Burling is a sister of Thos. Harrison and Mrs. Gillham.

SCOTT TOWNSHIP

Scott Demands Prompt Payment For Dog Tags

Scott township council met as a court of revision on Saturday morning. One appeal was considered. Assessment on lands of Lloyd Madocks was reduced by $200. Notice was given of the death of a male dog, property of Mrs. Pringle, and a female dog, owned by Ernest McKnight. It was decided that for the future all dog licenses must be secured promptly on the call of the assessor and that no consideration will be given to changes made thereafter.

In the afternoon the council assembled, when all members were present except Councillor John Clark, who is on a trip to Victoria, B.C. Communications were read from department of municipal affairs suggesting that residents get their coal supplies in early; from the Navy League soliciting assistance; from Councillor Clark, now on his vacation trip to British Columbia; from the township of Georgina in regard to drainage on the townline at Elora; from Ford Lang school attendance report for April; from Theaker's of Mount Albert, with a claim for damage to an ambulance on the township road.

Mr. Theaker presented a proposal for the municipality to purchase a snow-plow and truck which are for sale in his locality. The council instructed Constable Murray to collect all unpaid dog taxes. Accounts passed included: pay roll No. 5, labor on roads, $216.00; Ivan Law, repairing bridges and moving crusher, $70; N. Thompson, moving crusher and dragging, $40.65; B. Blackburn, tractor pulling plow, $2; J. A. Meyers, Smith and Macnaught hardware accounts, $4.00; Thompson's machine shop, repair pulley, $2.50; Weller Construction, truck, eight hours at $14.00, $112.00; R. W. Pickering, supplies, $3.94; Ivan Law, welding and charging battery, $3.50; William Meyers, repairs and supplies, $22.60.

Zack Harrison, bonus, 50 rods wire fence, $20; Amos Clarke, bonus, 40 rods wire fence, $10; Herbert Pearson, postage and exchange, $3.50; Herbert Pearson, salary, assessor, $150; Tillman Meyers, delivering supplies to quarantined homes, $2.50; Lorne Bagshaw, one lamb killed by dogs.

FARM FORUM

By MAE HARMAN

Although Temperanceville Farm Radio Forums decided against regular summer meetings, a special meeting was held on June 1 to discuss "Price Control."

The broadcast brought an address by H. H. Hannam, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, which gave a splendid lead to the discussions. In his usual clear and concise manner Mr. Hannam gave a very fair and comprehensive report of the effects price control have had on Canadian agriculture.

At the local meeting, it was agreed that a general price ceiling is in the interests of the country as a whole, if all the major groups receive equal treatment and allowance is made for seasonal changes.

The rise in the prices of articles bought for the home and family since the war began and previous to the application of the ceiling was estimated at from 15 to 33 percent. All agreed, however, that without some form of price control, prices would have continued to rise and might easily have become prohibitive. The price ceiling has had a beneficial effect to the farmer in respect to the purchasing of feeds and farm machinery.

One group said that estimating the farm income at this time of year was like counting your chickens before they are hatched, while another group was convinced that the net farm income is not as high this year as it was at this time last year. Many advocated a price ceiling on wages of both farm and industrial workers.

Some of the advantages in Canada's price ceiling from the farmers' standpoint were as follows: it has kept down the cost of living; kept industrial wages down; maintained poor markets; given rich and poor alike the same opportunities of buying and prevented inflation.

The farmers' greatest complaint against the present system of price control is the disparity with other industries. During the depression, farmers operated at a loss and as soon as farm prices began to rise, the ceiling was clamped on.

"Bring our prices on a parity with the prices of the things we must buy before you apply the ceiling," said the Temperanceville folk, "and while you are at it, put in a floor to prevent our prices from falling below the cost of production."

The farmers of Canada are not asking for excess profits or preferred treatment. They have a job to do in this fight for freedom, and if they are dealt with on a fair and equitable basis, they will not shirk their responsibilities.

Hear Donald Gordon, chairman of the wartime prices and trade board, answer the farmers' questions on price control over CBL on June 15 at 8.30 p.m.

MORE PROFIT FROM EVERY ANIMAL ON THE FARM

● Sugared Schumacher Feed is a great utility feed. It serves all types of stock at all times of the year. Sugared Schumacher is better than corn, better than oats, better than barley, better than wheat feeds, because it is a blend of all four of them—plus minerals, molasses and iodine.

Quaker Sugared Schumacher Feed has been a standard feed for many years—one with which other feeds are compared. It develops a quality of bone, skin and muscle that make better looking animals—helps keep them in vigor, health and condition.

For growing young stock, rebuilding dry stock, developing fine beef, raising ton litters, keeping the work horses and bull in splendid condition—yes, even for the milking herd, Sugared Schumacher Feed is the choice of experienced, successful farmers for a dependable all round satisfactory feed.

If You're Lucky You'll See A Glamorous Star, Will It Be Gene Tierney or Hedy Lamarr?

Sixty answers were sent in for last week's classified ad contest. Of these 24 had all ten words correct. A few were late. From the 24 who sent in perfect answers Mrs. W. C. Lumley, Newmarket business woman, drew the following five winners: B. McCannan, 11 College St., Newmarket, Mrs. J. Eustace, 129 Main St., Newmarket, Miss Maud Fairbairn, R. R. 2, Queensville, W. Boyd, 42 Botsford St., Newmarket, and Mrs. J. Cribbar, 16 Joseph St., Newmarket. They receive double passes to the Strand theatre for next Tuesday evening to see "The Spoilers," and "Broadway Limited," or for next Thursday evening, to see "The Courtship of Andy Hardy," starring Mickey Rooney, plus "The Stars Look Down." Passes may be picked up any evening at the theatre.

The correct answers to last week's contest were: cultivation, neckpiece, pedigree, bungalow, advertising, bicycle, majority, keepee, warehouse, cupboard, "Yorkshire" was a popular and good answer instead of "pedigree," but it wasn't the right answer.

CLASSIFIEDS RATES WILL BE SUBSTANTIALLY SAME

Classified advertisements in the new "Era and Express" will cost no more than formerly if paid for within a week. They will still be 25 cents for one week (up to 25 words), 40 cents for two weeks, 50 cents for three weeks.

As many people inserted their advertisements in both newspapers, this will mean a saving to the public.

The only change in rates will be to adopt the practice of other weekly newspapers of adding a charge of 25 cents to classifieds which haven't been paid for within a week of the first insertion. This extra 25 cents covers the cost of mailing the account and any subsequent bookkeeping and collection costs.

There will also be a ten cents charge for use of a box number.

M. P. FINE UNDER WAR MEASURES ACT

Twenty-three speeding cases were presented in Newmarket police court on Tuesday. Of these nine were adjourned for a week. Two were violations of the Highway Traffic Act and the remainder were violations of the war-time traffic regulations.

Magistrate W. E. McIlveen found Fred G. Hobbittell, M.P., Toronto, guilty of travelling 55 miles an hour on Yonge Street highway and fined him $25 and costs, under the War Measures Act.

Mr. Hobbittell did not appear in court. The charge was laid by Provincial Constable Alex. Ferguson.

Fines of $15 and costs were imposed on Fred Lowenberger, Sudbury, Allen Hamilton and George Price, both of Toronto, and Sidmer Demarest, Newmarket, for travelling between 40 and 50 miles an hour on the same highway. All five motorists were timed by Provincial Constable Alex. Ferguson.

Motorists timed in Aurora by Constable Fisher Dunham and fined $15 and costs were William Armstrong, Barrie, Leslie Bertram, Midhurst, Ont., Walter Prosser, Newmarket, and Ralph Watson, Toronto.

Mr. Watson, who pleaded not guilty to travelling at 40 miles an hour in Aurora, stated that he had checked his speed at the time in question when he saw Constable Dunham at the side of the road. He said that he was going 40 miles an hour.

"Why were you going 40 miles an hour in Aurora?" his worship questioned. The defendant replied that he did not think he had entered the town when the officer checked him.

"You were in Aurora if you saw the officer," accused his worship. "I don't check on speed outside of Aurora," stated the police officer.

"Do you know how serious a thing this is?" Magistrate McIlveen asked the defendant. "This is a war measures act. This is a thing where we can take your license to drive away from you. I am going to fine you $15 and costs."

John Papesh, Toronto, who pleaded not guilty to driving 45 miles an hour in Aurora, was fined $5 and costs when his worship reduced the charge from the wartime traffic regulations to the highway traffic act.

Mr. Papesh pleaded that he was engaged in a war industry and that he had received a telephone call to ship certain aeroplane parts. He said that he was hurrying to get them to their destination on time. He did not believe that he was going much over the speed limit.

"Is there some measure in the act covering this?" his worship asked the crown.

Crown Attorney N. L. Mathews, K.C., stated that he could find no clause in the act covering the situation. The regulations except members of the armed forces, fire department, police department, air raid protection units, etc. while on duty.

"Under the circumstances I will impose the minimum fine of $5 and costs under the Highway Traffic Act," his worship told Mr. Papesh.

Found guilty of travelling 45 miles an hour on the third concession of East Gwillimbury, Law Motor Sales Co., Zephyr, was fined $15 and costs. County Constable Ronald Watt laid the charge.

His worship fined George Taylor, a soldier, Zephyr, $5 and costs of $1.50 for travelling 45 miles an hour in East Gwillimbury. Taylor was fined under the Highway Traffic Act. He stated that he was on his way to the Newmarket military camp at the time.

Exceeding the speed limit in Newmarket brought fines of $9 and costs to Philip Ranow, 39 m.p.h., and $9 and costs to Vernon D. Dennis (38 m.p.h.), both Toronto residents. They were timed by Constable Kenneth Mount.

DOREEN SLORACH IS JUNE BRIDE

A quiet wedding was solemnized last Thursday at the United Church parsonage, Mount Albert, when Doreen Slorach, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Slorach of Mount Albert, was united in marriage to Cpl. John Oliver of Debert, Nova Scotia, only son of Mr. and Mrs. John Oliver of Mount Albert. Rev. R. V. Wilson performed the ceremony.

The bride was dressed in blue and white figured crepe with white accessories and wore a corsage of Talisman roses. Mrs. William Morton was her sister's bridesmaid. She wore a brown suit and a corsage of Talisman roses. Mr. William Morton was groomsmen.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, after which the young couple left on a trip to Toronto and other places.

NEWMARKET GIRL WINS TRIP TO CHICAGO FAIR

The York County Junior Farmers' Judging competition and achievement day held at Richmond Hill on Thursday of last week proved to be one of the most satisfactory in years, with 109 contestants, and except for the downpour at noon everything was run off without a hitch. There were 65 taking part in the young ladies' work, which featured a display of their achievements in the project clubs of the past year.

Forty-four Junior Farmers took part in the livestock judging competition, judging ten classes of stock from seven different breeders. To reduce driving some stock was trucked to other farms being visited.

With the contests completed, a happy crowd gathered in the school room of the United church at Richmond Hill in the evening for the banquet, which featured an address by A. H. Martin, assistant director of the agricultural representatives, followed by the presentation of prizes. The young ladies completing their projects were given flatware and the championship prize of a trip to Chicago was won by Doris Penrose of Newmarket, with the A. J. H. Eckardt memorial trophy being awarded to Ruby Reesor of the Unionville club.

Charles Haines of Sharon took third place in both the senior and senior dairy judging events.

Following the presentation of prizes President Gordon Orr, of Maple, called upon Vice-President Viola Rutledge, of Newmarket, to read an address to T. R. Hillard, assistant representative, who was reporting the news in a few days. At the proper time Secretary Charles Haines, of Sharon, presented their friend "Dick" with a leather toilet case in appreciation of the excellent work he has done amongst the young folks in the 20 months he has been in York County.

Friday of this week the Juniors have their last big day before the heavy summer work swarms them. They will hold their annual picnic and dance at Muskegan's Lake.

BEAUTIFUL HOME AND FARM IS PURCHASED

Arthur Evans, who recently sold his farm at Sharon, has purchased a 100-acre farm and beautiful, modern farm home near Oakville. The farm is situated on lot 10, concession 2, Trafalgar township.

The nine-roomed modern house has hydro power and every convenience. The grounds about the house are beautifully landscaped and gardened. There is a flagstoned sunken garden, with canopy-covered "luck-well."

There is a modern barn, and a separate horse stable, both modernly equipped. With the exception of five acres of oak and hemlock bush, through which runs a stream, the farm is all tillable.

The farm was owned by A. N. Holzman, formerly of the Gerhard Holzman Piano Co. and was listed at $20,000. The sale was made through Duffy Realty Co., Weston, with possession on June 22.

SISMAN'S TAKE OPENING GAME FROM TANNERY

Sisman's sluggers defeated the Collis men in the opening game of the town league on Tuesday evening in a game that provided plenty of action.

The score was 18-16, wildness of the pitchers accounting for part of the high score. The town workmen mowed the grass in the afternoon and the diamond was in fair condition.

Manager Leon Simmons started on the mound for the shoemakers and hurled steady ball against the leathermen, giving way to Ted Heaney in the sixth. Heaney had plenty of stuff, but was wild as a hawk, and the tanners came through with six runs in the seventh to just about knot the count. Jim McGhee made his debut on the mound for the Collis team and indicated he would be heard from later in the season. Bill "Jelly" Gikes twirled the last frame and held the Sisman batters useless. Holloway at the initial sack and the veteran, Pat Patterson, came up with a fine defensive display for the winners, that earned merit marks. Wes. Heaney led the hitters.

For the tannery, Harry Sutton had a perfect night at bat, crashing out a mammoth homer, and two doubles and picking up a walk. Bill West and Al. White were potent afield. Jack Davidson made a nice try in his first time behind the plate. A fair crowd watched the game. Ab. Hulse and Wyatt Saigle handled it.

Tomorrow night the Queen's Yorks will meet Sisman's and on Tuesday night the Yorks will meet Pate Harman's men from the Collis campus. The teams are anxious to have a fourth entry and the officials have called for a practice on Monday night for all boys who want to play on a junior team in the town league.

WM. SMITH WAS ACTIVE IN SALVATION ARMY

William Smith, who has resided almost continuously in Aurora for 51 years, died on Sunday.

He was born in York, England, and came to Canada as a boy of 12 to farm near Laskay.

At the age of 19 he joined the Salvation Army here and has been a member ever since, being sergeant-major at his death. He received training with the Army in Toronto and was for a few years at headquarters on Albert St., later going to Hamilton with the rank of captain. He retired from religious work and took up moulding; at the Fleury plant, where he was employed for many years, but he was always active in the work at the citadel. Mr. Smith was also a member of the Order of Foresters.

He had been in ill-health for the past few years. He is survived by his widow, Alice Beatrice McGill, one daughter, Mrs. Audrey Smith of Niagara Falls, and two step-children, Mrs. Margaret Soper and Robert McGill, of Toronto.

The funeral service was held at the Salvation Army citadel on Tuesday, with interment in Aurora cemetery. Capt. Nellie Williams of Toronto conducted the service, assisted by Capt. Elsie Harris, of Mimico, Capt. J. Clarke of Toronto and Capt. M. Price and Rev. R. K. Perdue of Aurora.

REEVA GAMBRILL IS PRETTY JUNE BRIDE

A quiet wedding was solemnized by Rev. H. J. Anderson at King United church on Saturday afternoon when Miss Reeve Gambrill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. J. Gambrill of King, was united in marriage to Mr. Everett Wilshire, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Amos Wilshire of Wales. The bride was lovely in a pale blue crepe frock made on torso lines, with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses and lily-of-the-valley.

Her bridesmaid was Miss Dorothy Watson of Aurora, who wore a beige crepe frock with white accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses and mauve sweet peas.

The groom was supported by Mr. Douglas Wilson of King. A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Gambrill wearing a navy blue ensemble and a corsage of roses. The bride's eldest sister, Mrs. Earl Campbell, assisted and wore a beige dress and a corsage of roses.

Mrs. W. Carson and Mrs. Earl Campbell presided at the ten table. The rooms were resplendent with summer blooms.

For travelling the bride chose a two-piece suit of mustard shade embroidered wool, beige accessories and gardenia red costume jewellery. On their return they will reside in Toronto.

Mrs. Davison won five firsts, a second and a third. Mrs. Klees won a first and three seconds. These awards were aside from the special. The pony show will be held late this month, it is expected.

DOWN THE CENTRE

Last week we saw a movie in Toronto called "The Pittsburgh Kid," which featured Billy Conn, the heavyweight contender, and after watching and listening to the Kid for six reels we can well understand how old man Smith decided to sock Billy for wedding his daughter, Mary Lou. Conn has recently lost two bouts, one to Joe Louis and the other to his father-in-law. The story is fairly good and the cast capable and as you might expect Conn is a ham actor. Still that didn't make us dislike him. It was just his general manner and "physiognomy." Suggest you see it if it's in the neighborhood. One look at Conn and you know how long he'll last a second time against the Brown Bomber.

Bob Miller, the tall Richmond Hill hurler who pitched many a softball tournament in these parts, is a proud daddy and as yet hasn't seen any activity in the Markham league. "Chuck" McMillan, who played third for the Hill last year, is now doing likewise for Unionville.

Joe Tunney, the old Aurora junior goalie, was back in his native Newmarket on Saturday for his cousin's wedding. A quiet, likeable lad, Tunney has earned himself already two stripes and is headed for better things. He is still down at Trenton.

Aub. Lloyd, the former Aurora Temperanceville, King City, softball and footballer and prominent in the sports activity of the United Church Y.P.U.'s in North York, trots to the altar this month with a Maple girl. He is now located in Fergus.

Ken Brown, who was all set to be married this month to Miss Noreen McTaggart of Nobleton, has had to postpone the event. The former district athlete has a well-earned military promotion on tap with the Queen's Yorks and left this week for Megantic, P.Q. The wedding will go on as per schedule in July.

St. Andrew's College cricketers bit the dust twice last week. Trinity College took their first of all then U.C.C. polished them off to eliminate them from any further Little Big Four consideration this season.

Bill Haskett, the A. Elias of Newmarket baseball, certainly put out a masterpiece with the splendid programs that the fans are all enjoying this season. Our thanks for the honor of having one of our bits from this column included. When a league can get out such a nifty it certainly augurs well for a successful season and certainly should help the gates. Bert Tunney tried the same idea in Aurora and it went over big, even if it wasn't as elaborate as the Newmarket program.

Gas-rallying really hit one sport right between the eyes and tires too. Yes, my friend, for the first time in 24 years the famous Indianapolis speed races are out for the duration and one of the prize news camera events of the year gone west.

Bradford bowlers are out of action this season and the bowling green has plenty of long grass. Invitations to the Bradford men who want to keep at the sport have been extended by both the Newmarket and Aurora clubs, and there is a bit of rivalry over the thing too. The Bradford boys hardly know where to play but both clubs will likely benefit. Speaking of Bradford reminds us an orchid goes to our friend.

Charlie Evans, former lacrosse and hockey biggie of the South Simcoe village, who was elected reeve by acclamation last week following the death of another fine sportsman, Reeve Combs. Charlie's great-grandpappy and his granddad, too, were both Reeves of Bradford, adding a fine family connection to the acclamation. With Vic. Combs and Jim Webb on the council, "Gunch" Reeves as town cop, and Ben Collings as hydro-commissioner, a town fathers get-together looks like a lacrosse gathering.

Earl Cook, the Stouffville boy who has had his ups and downs in professional baseball, is having his troubles this year with Beaumont, a class B team of the Texas circuit. It is the lowest he has yet fallen and he is finding it hard to finish a game. He's lucky to have as manager Steve O'Neil, with whom he played at Toronto, and since Beaumont, a Detroit farm team, has plenty of class, sufficient in fact to lead the league, Cook is being treated a whole lot better than his record to date would warrant. It's not too late yet, however, to make a come-back on the scene.

Laurence Davis, former Ivy baseball star who joined the R.C.A.F. in '40, has been killed in action overseas. Davis' last appearances in these parts were in '39 when he managed and played second-base for his native village against Stouffville. More and more grows the casualty list of those gallant athletes who "gave their today for our tomorrow."

John Konig, the big tall lad from Richmond Hill who wore a black baseball cap and looked like a drink of water when he umpired under the nom de plume of "Jake" in the York-Simcoe league the past few years, was among the graduating class of officers for the Canadian army at Brockville last week.

Charlie Fry, one of the better district bowlers, has been named president of the Aurora bowling club this season, and on Monday night there was a fair turn-out at the local green. Games will be played on Monday and Thursday.

Charlie Smith got tagged for 25 bucks by the judges at Thorncliffe last Saturday for edging over the Affirmation at the eighth pole to jostle Major Minor. Next week he will head for Winnipeg and the Dominion Day derby.

Bill Hewitt, the O.H.A. secretary, sure gets around. He draws down a salary as secretary of the O.H.A., ditto for the C.A.H.A. He's manager of Maple Leaf Gardens, and in the summer, spring and fall he acts as chief steward for the racing commission at most of the tracks. "Nice work if you can get it and you can get it if you try," at least, that's what the song says, but for most of us it's simply, "try and get it."

Golf clubs closed this year include Georgetown and Meaford. The sheep are browsing on the former course owned by a real estate firm. The latter needed 55 members to keep the pot boiling and could only round up 17.

Lacrosse is to get a whirl this year at Newmarket camp and a game will be carded for July 1 at

SPORT STABS WITH "AB"

"Norm": Capt. Norman Johnston in the hallowed halls of Aurora high school last week held forth in his "derniere classe" for the duration. For 18 years he has been science master and has directed athletics. For 17 years he's put the boys through cadet paces and if after doing a three-fold job on a bunch of spirited youngsters for anywhere from three to five years they still go forth and respectfully recall you by your first name you can pretty well figure you've won yourself a snug place in their hearts.

A farm boy, Norm. Johnston came to Aurora high as a student in the days when the boys were big and sturdy. It took a lot of class to make the soccer team in those days, for the Aurora school was top-dog in the interscholastic field and the loss of a single game to the lads from Newmarket or Richmond Hill was akin to disgrace to the school eleven.

Playing at that time were such fellows as Dooley Butler, Harold and Ev. Leary, Gene and Curly Underhill, Herb, Spaulding, Lorne Campbell, Cap. Cook and Cliff. Case. They never lost a match and when the Great War came most of them went on their way to a greater game.

Over the years resumed their studies, the majority going on to Toronto university. Norm was a member of the senior soccer team which swept the intercollegiate. That year Butler, Spaulding, Gene Underhill and Johnson were teammates. Butler graduated a Canadian army at Brockville last week.

They lost only one game, that to a team from Penn state and they took full revenge later. Queen's, McGill, R.M.C., Princeton, Lehigh, Pennsylvania, New York's Crescent A.C. all fell in succession before the prowess of the eleven. Campbell and Curly Underhill were second teamers, and in the inter-faculty series it was always a dog-fight to see which team of three faculties boasting Aurora boys in their line-ups would win.

Upon graduation Norm came back to his alma mater as a teacher. A tough job to make good in your old home town, you say? Well, tough or not, Norm. did it. The new school had seen some mighty changes under the then new principal, J. H. Knowles. Norm. fitted in both for discipline and the ability to win the friendship of the boys. All the teachers had a hand in it and patting out some of the best teachers did some good work. We were on the scene, and we think we know whereof we speak.

For three years Norm. played soccer, hardball and softball with the boys in a series of smashing triumphs. Soccer faded out with his champs of '26, as the other schools finally picked up of being continually beaten, altho', as we recall it, the excuse was that soccer was an archaic game. Nineteen twenty-five saw the first interschool track meet taken by Newmarket, who had a husky lot of performers who could really go, like Bill Cripps, Doug. Marshall and Malinpie.

The next year A. J. H. Eckhardt donated the district track championship and Aurora won it. Coulson Malloy, Frank Patterson, Ted Sutton, Bruce Stiles and others were on that team. '32, '33, '34 saw other triumphs. That of some of those champs of yesterday, the Cox brothers, Ken, Brown, Jim Cook, Dud. Wilcox, Forrest, Hughey, Folliott, Bill Jones, Ken. MacDonald, Rusty McDonald, Malloy, and many more we could name.

Basketball saw another long series of triumphs. Senior titles were won in '31, '32, '33, '34 and '35. The junior A's were always Coach Johnson's special care, saw strings of wins in '36, '37, '38, '40, '41 and '42. The hand of fate made a nice gesture when it plopped the two titles in what will be Mr. Johnson's last coaching effort for a year or two. Do we need to say that there are few secondary school coaches who can show a better record? The facts speak for themselves and in no cases were the other teams in the set-up class. Teal at Richmond Hill, Blackstock at Pickering and a long line of Newmarket coaches knew their business and at track and soccer Markham knew their stuff too. The past few years Markham and Aurora have tangled at soccer, with the records favoring Aurora. From the cadet corps and from the athletic squads have gone over 100 Aurora high school grads into the present conflict. Now their old maestro joins them to do his bit again.

Five pins has made its appearance at Aurora high school. The girls use Indians clubs and a regulation softball for the sport and it makes a fairly interesting game too. Weren't many "strikes" as we peeped past the door but lots of laughter and noise and no damage to the floor. It's a fairly ingenious idea, whoever is the camp jamboree, we understand. Most army centres are taking to what was once the national game and in fact still is by act of parliament. The R.C.A.F. lads in Toronto will have a senior team in a loop which will open at Ravina rink next fall. We'll see if they start the kids in both Newmarket and Aurora playing with the gutted sticks. Every time there's been a team in either centre it's always started with the kids. It would be the answer to many otherwise dull nights and wouldn't cost much.

Sports service league are coming to the rescue of the Queen's Yorks with athletic equipment. We know, however, that the boys need more and it might be no use to turn over to them a dull tin in use athletically to the boys of the county unit. If you will communicate with this corner we'll see that they get it.
